

Good Morning, Golfer!

This is what it looks like when you tee off at Dogwood Golf Club on the day of the RitC Golf Challenge! Have cup of coffee and a danish to get your day started.

Yes, we are pleased to announce that the 2016 Right in the Community (RitC) Golf Event will be held at beautiful Dogwood Golf & Country Club in Austell, Georgia on Monday, October 10 (Columbus Day). In a state known for great golf courses, Dogwood Club is one of the best kept secrets in Cobb County. Dogwood is a semi-private facility located near Austell and Powder Springs. Located just off the East-West Connector, halfway between Cumberland and Town Center Malls, it is convenient from the Vinings, Marietta, Douglasville, Kennesaw, and Cartersville areas.

The tree-lined 18 hole, 6,480-yard, Par 71 course is a true test of the game and a golfer's abilities. Reminiscent of the wonderful older courses, Dogwood rewards the shot-maker and the golfer who has the maturity to manage their game. It is not tricky nor does it incorporate gimmicks, but an honest use of the terrain and water hazards creates a challenge and proves that length alone is not enough to characterize a golf course. Last fall Dogwood upgraded the greens to mini Verde greens. They are really lovely and fast (says the staff pro!).

Playing in this event is like having your own PRIVATE GOLF COURSE. RitC golfers can play all day. You can play the odd holes, the even holes, all the holes, or just skip the hard ones! It doesn't matter. You can play as many holes as you have energy.

Todd Williard and Jim McGowan are our 2016 Golf Challenge Chairmen and they are just itching to get started. They are looking for golfers who will be willing to help us raise funds from their friends, families, and associates. The money raised will go toward programs and services for our special needs folks. The golf day is a full day of golf with lunch, breakfast, and door prizes.

It will only cost you $150 for your personal commitment. The rest is up to your friends. You can start gathering those pledges. If you do not want to solicit pledges but would like to help RitC and play golf, give Todd a call. He can help.

Can we count on you this year? You can donate through Paypal or Donate Now.
